Separate Languages for Applications
To get Windows 7 like language per application

- Go to Control Panel
- Search for "Language" and Choose "Change input methods"
- Click "Advanced Settings"
- Enable "Let me set a different input methods for each app window"
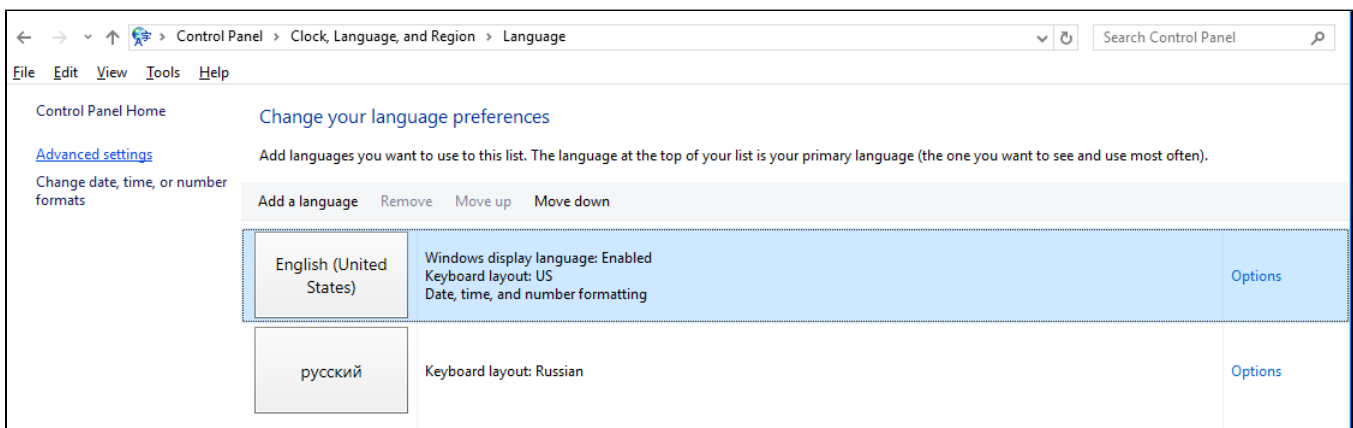

Go to Control Panel

Search for "Language" and Choose "Change input methods"

Click "Advanced Settings"

Enable "Let me set a different input methods for each app window"

← → ∨ ↑ 🐦 › Control Panel › Clock, Language, and Region › Language › Advanced settings ∨ ↻ S

File   Edit   View   Tools   Help

Advanced settings

Override for Windows display language

If you want to use a display language that's different than the one determined by the order of your language list, choose it here.

Use language list (recommended)	∨

Apply language settings to the welcome screen, system accounts, and new user accounts

Override for default input method

If you want to use an input method that's different than the first one in your language list, choose it here.

Use language list (recommended)	∨

Switching input methods

☑ Let me set a different input method for each app window

☐ Use the desktop language bar when it's available   Options

Change language bar hot keys